PERFORMANCE

Cutting edge art group Blast Theory have never been known for their subtleties, and their new project is no exception. Desert Rain occupies the refurbished Tramway at the end of the month and promises to be an experience never to be forgotten. Part game, part installation and part performance, audience members (limited to six at a time) must work together to search motels, bunkers and storms. Dealing with the notions of media communication and miscommunication, Desert Rain demands high levels of audience participation.

Blast Theory's Desert Rain is at the Tramway from Thursday 29 June - Saturday 8 July (no performance on Sunday 2 & Monday 3 July). Tickets: $6.00/£3.00 - Tel: 0141 287 3900. Performances are every 30 minutes.
